

BEYOND COMPLIANCE

Beyond Compliance Inc. provides robust solutions to address increasingly vital compliance issues for clients in Energy, Utilities and Transportation

The Challenge

All organizations must operate within government regulations and corporate business policies which often change quickly. A key challenge is maintaining efficient information flow between those tracking and managing changes, and the field personnel executing them.

Products that Provide Real Value

We provide clients with web-delivered and mobile field data capture software applications that:

- address all aspects of corporate and industrial compliance
- automate deficiency identification and corrective action management workflow
- dramatically improve field and office worker productivity
- reduce time and costs relating to managing regulatory and corporate compliance
- close the loop in ensuring due diligence – from start to finish

Thousands of users in North America know that our products are easy to use, and that we help them inject efficiency and intelligence into data collection and reporting.

We liberate clients from tedious, repetitive data collection and entry, and analysis relating to their people, facilities and equipment.

And we go beyond software to incorporate subject matter expertise, an intuitive workflow process and a secure technology delivery vehicle.

Solid Service and Support

Beyond Compliance Inc. (BCI) has unique strengths which enable us to take on our clients' business challenges, and configure one or more solutions to help them perform their business better.

Through our consultative training process, we add value by tailoring compliance workflow activity and training specific to field workers and office personnel.

Strong Technically

We bring the industry-specific expertise that our clients are looking for. We speak the language of the field workers, make sense to supervisors, and understand the pressures of the boardroom.

In-house knowledge combined with the expertise of our partner community ensures we understand regulatory and corporate demands and their impact on business.

The End Result

We make compliance an easy, sustainable part of everyday business, and that helps organizations be better corporate citizens.

Compliance activities become embraced and easily handled. Attention previously devoted to compliance can be turned to other business priorities.

Clients using our products are making a public commitment to go beyond "just good enough" – to protect their workers and the environment in the best ways possible.

The most responsible companies think Beyond Compliance.

Strength in Working Together

The Beyond Compliance team believes in "doing the right thing" as a corporate philosophy.

Every member of our team strives to make a difference for our clients, in a culture of flexibility and dedication that is unique. The people of Beyond Compliance are much like our suite of products – strong individually, and stronger still as we work together for our clients.

BCI has established an outstanding list of clients. Here are some of the good things they say about us:

"The ease of implementation was a direct reflection of excellent product design and the subject knowledge their employees brought to the project. I found BCI to be very flexible and cooperative as we brought our company to the next level of compliance."

Control Centre Supervisor, Mid-size Energy Partnership

"The entire team was productive within the first week after training. Employee morale improved significantly as workers became more engaged and efficient."

Field Supervisor, ExxonMobil

"The reporting program is excellent. Its flexibility provides for a greater level of reporting information and the data presented is a direct reflection of the work that is being done. Beyond Compliance brings out the best of our ideas."

Field Superintendent, Nexen Inc.

"Regulations are moving at a breakneck speed and compliance is becoming non-negotiable. Beyond Compliance, with their team of industry experts, has helped us considerably. We've gone from being a good operator to being great."

Production Manager, Mid-size Energy Producer

"I continue to receive very good feedback from the field. Field employees are much more aware of the regulations in context to their work and therefore, appropriate work practices are reinforced and applied consistently."
